

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

NEW BATTERIES ENERGIZE THE POWER TO PREVAIL.

GREEN LASER SIGHTS

Minneapolis, MN—4/08/11 Viridian Green Laser Sight is acclaimed for sharp, clear targeting day or night, indoors or out. Now, Viridian Tactical Energy Ultra Lithium batteries join the good guys' arsenal.

New Tactical Energy CR2 and CR123 batteries power-up laser sights, weapon-mounted lights and tactical flashlights with advanced lithium energy, ensuring optimum readiness in storage and maximum performance under fire.

Unlike lesser batteries, Tactical Energy Ultra Lithium batteries won't self-discharge in the holster or locker, ensuring full power start to finish. They're up to a third lighter, for faster draw and less swing weight. Energy shelf-life is measured in years, not weeks or months, for long-term reliability. Matched to the strict demands of tactical tools, Viridian Tactical Energy batteries give law enforcement, security and personal defense advocates the power to prevail when it counts.

TRUE TACTICAL POWER, EXTREME VALUE.

At just $5.99 MSRP per 3-pack, Tactical Energy CR123 batteries cost no more -- and the Tactical Energy CR2 3-pack actually costs less -- than other batteries. In these times of squeezed personal and departmental budgets, that kind of value is significant.

Tactical Energy Ultra Lithium batteries, set in eye-grabbing packaging, will begin shipping soon, giving retailers a profitable add-on sale for every CR2/CR123 laser sight, taflight or tactical flashlight they sell, and providing a strong impulse buy for any shooter. In addition, co-op promotions with top firearm brands are expected to generate high interest and traffic. Dealers are urged to order immediately to ensure prompt delivery and sufficient quantity.
